A Message to the Graduates

Dear Graduates:

I want to greet you and your families upon your completion of junior high school with best wishes and heartiest congratulations.

You realize, of course, that you are about to enter high school, which means that the demands on you will be higher, will require greater and more efforts, higher concentration and maturity, than the work of junior high school.

It is my hope and wish that at this new turn in the course of your studies at Talmudical Academy you will meet with success in reaching out for these higher levels required of you, both in terms of physical stamina and intellectual growth.

My blessings are with each and every one of you, as you go on to continue your religious and secular studies at our Yeshiva.

Rabbi Hyman L. Samson, Dean

A Message to T'ruah

DEAR GRADUATES:

The administration and staff of our Yeshivah extend hearty felicitations to you upon the completion of your junior high school studies.

You are undoubtedly aware that you have merely rounded an important bend on the road of learning. Graduation from junior high school means that you have left the levels of elementary learning behind, and have tasted of the first tasks and fruits of a higher, more mature approach to knowledge. You have felt the initial challenge of the wider horizons of scholarship that await you, as you move on to the next stage of your education, both in the Hebrew and in the Secular departments.

The combination of your Torah learning and general studies distinguishes you from the run-of-the-mill junior high school graduates who take the spotlight of public attention in these days, when the world has realized the importance of education. It gives you a superior background and point of vantage to look into the future with greater confidence, for you have begun to acquire the spiritual tools and moral armor, as well as the technical knowledge and skills that are necessary to meet the challenge of our great, yet dangerous days.

Do not stop half-way. You have just begun to learn. The better and higher levels of your training are within your grasp. Continue to prepare yourselves for the intellectual and professional leadership of our community that needs you more than ever before. We look forward to help you reach out for the higher goals as Jews and better human beings.

DR. GERSHON KRANZLER, Principal

Greetings to the Class of '61

Congratulations on another step forward. You are on your way. You are in a great and proud tradition, which has contributed so much to the welfare and dignity of all mankind.

The long, fragmentary tale of man's time upon this earth has its darkness lit up here and there by the flame of those sensitive spirits more truly attuned to his potential.

No people deserve more honor for these great ones, none have contributed more to the elevation of human welfare and dignity than yours.

Eventually, as man matures, we seem justified in hoping and believing the old dream may become real, that he may free himself of all infantile notions of bigotry, including race superiority and an adolescent patriotism, and become a conscious member of the total human family of all races, religions and nations.

Each of you bears a special responsibility. It is your heritage. May your spirits be constantly rekindled by the flickers of the great ones in your own peculiar and wonderful tradition. May each of you rise to the challenge and accept your own part in this on-going process of a still greater welfare and dignity for the whole human race.

Your friend,
D. L. West

Upon the Death of A Friend

FAY FISHER

Her death was a small and so immense a thing.
I think of the faint gleam of light,
The glory of a fragrant summer's evening,
That must gently, inevitably, disappear.
Leaving us to darkness and ourselves.

M. C. WILDSTEIN

Looking Back

As we look back over the past years at the Talmudical Academy it appears to us that our class is like a tree. Our roots were formed during our early years of school and planted as we entered junior high school. Our tree has grown during the past three years and it is now at its critical point. Now its leaves will either be shed and the tree will bear fruit, or the leaves will die, and the tree will die, too, G-d forbid.

Let us hope and pray that, as we enter high school, we shall all work hard and strive for higher goals, and that our tree shall not die, but bear fruit and grow from strength to strength.

Gary Rosenblatt
Co-Editor

Our Task

The world in which we live suffers from a serious crisis and conflict. We are constantly at the brink of war and peace.

As Yeshiva students we must realize that the only way we can combat such a crisis is through the spreading of the spirit of the Torah. For our Torah is the fundamental basis and principal support of the world. Without it our world would never have been created, nor be earth to exist.

It has been said that in a scientific age such as this we do not need the Torah any longer. This idea is definitely wrong. We can see from the past what it means to live in an age without Torah. Israel at one time was living on its own soil, a free nation respected and leading among other nations, but its people began to stray from the Torah. G-d punished them by sending them into exile. The same thing happened to the Jews of Spain, England, Portugal, Babylonia, Germany and many other countries.

We of the Junior High School Graduating Class are standing up and fighting for a world in which Torah will rule. Our dear Rabbaim and teachers help us accomplish this task by implanting in us the Torah and Yir' as-Shomayim that we need to fight for a world with Torah as its guide and the Almighty as its One and Only Ruler.

Dedication to our Teachers

We, the Junior High School Graduating Class of '61, dedicate this our 1961 Freshman Yearbook to our beloved teachers who have been guiding lights to us throughout our junior high school years.

Our entire class thanks you sincerely for the infinite patience, constant help and consideration which you have extended to us throughout our junior high school years.

שיר הכיום

היום אנו מסיימים
את שנות הלימודים
בהן ניסינו את הטוב ביותר
והצלחנו פחות או יותר

השנים היו קשות
כמו כן ארוכות
אך עתה, אנו נושמים לרווחה
כמובן רק לקדה

כי בשנה הבאה
נתחיל שנת לימודים חדשה
ושלב נוסף בשרשרת החשובה
הקרויה חינוך.

ימי ספירה

מאת

בן ציון אריה שפירא

חמשים שבין חג הפסח לחג השבועות נקראים ימי ספירה כמו שכתוב בתורה (ויקרא פ' אמר) " וספרתם לכם ממחרת השבת מיום הביאכם את עומר התנופה שבע שבתות תמימות" ואנו מקיימים מצוה עשה זו של ספירת העומר ומברכים על ספירת העומר בכל לילה משבע השבועות.

בספר התנוך מצוה ש"ו סירוש הענין של ימי הספירה ברבריו "משרשי המצוה על צד הפשט לפי שכל עיקרו של ישראל אינו אלא התורה וכו', ובעבורה נגאלו ועלו לכל הגדולה שעלו עליה נצטוינו למנות ממחרת יום טוב של פסח עד יום נתינת התורה להראות בנפשנו התשק הגדול אל יום הנכבד הנכסף ללבנו כעבר לשאף צל ויכנה תמיד מתי יבא העת הנכסף אליו שיצא לחרות." מהדברים האלו נראה שימי הספירה הם ימי שמחה שמספרים את הימים עד קבלת התורה.

ביסינו ימי ספירה הם ימי אבלות שאין נושאים נשים ואין מסתפרים ומעטים בכל שמחות מפני שבימים אלו בין פסח לעצרת מתו תלמידי רבי עקיבא בראיתא בגמרא יבמות סב: " אמרו שנים עשר אלף זוגים תלמידים היה לו לר"ע מגבת עד אנטיפרס וכולם מתו בפרק אחד מפני שלא נהגו כבוד זה בזה ותיה העולם שמם עד שבא ר"ע אצל דבותינו שבדרום ושנאה להם ר' מאיר ור' יוסי ור' שמעון ור' אליעזר בן שמוע והם הם העמידו תורה אותה שעה תנא בולם מתו מפסח ועד עצרת."

רק ל"ג בעומר נוהגים התר לעשות שמחה שהוא יום הלולא לר"ש בר יוחאי גם נראה ששמחת סיום מסכתא מותר בימי ספירה כי שמחה שיש בו דבוק חברים הלומדים ביחד היא תקון החסא של תלמידי ר"ע שלא נהגו כבוד זה בזה. ועל ידי שמחת של סיום מסכתא שעושים "יומא טבא לרבנן" גורמים להשכין אהבה ואחוה בין לומדי תורה.

Our Jewish Education

At this time of our graduation from junior high school, we are taking a step forward toward becoming true religious Jews at the Talmudical Academy of Baltimore. Some of us consider this a very high plateau in our Jewish learning. Yet, we must not take it as an end, a place to stop. Instead, it is a foundation of future steps, to rise and climb toward the greater heights of Jewish knowledge.

We consider ourselves fortunate that we are getting a better and firmer Jewish education than most other Jewish youngsters. Therefore we must realize that this is a privilege that will be important in future years. The backbone of the Jewish religion is the education of the young. Throughout the ages Jewish people have been known for their constant quest for knowledge, and we have always been called "The People of the Book."

It is our duty as members of the Orthodox Jewish Community and as students of a Yeshivah to keep up this tradition so that we may become worthy links in the chain of the generations.

Michael Cohn

Jacob's Ladder

All of life is but a dream; yet even dreams may often become reality, depending upon the serious manner in which we ourselves try to realize them.

In the Torah we are told of Jacob's ladder that was standing on the ground while the top of the ladder reached heavenward. We too, for the past nine years, have been climbing our ladder of educational studies, which combines heaven with earth—the religious studies with our secular work, through the Yeshivas Chofetz Chaim, the Talmudical Academy, where most of us have been attending ever since our kindergarten days.

Year after year we climb this ladder to greater heights with the hopes of reaching the stage of accomplishment and achievement toward our success in this dream of life that each of us has.

Today, thank G-d, we are about to reach another important step on this educational ladder by graduating from junior high school at the end of June, 1961. If we can only make sure, through our continuous climb, that the true goal is heavenward, which stands for religion and Torah, then we will realize that our efforts in the Yeshiva are not wasted, and the years we spent here and intend to continue, will have the blessings of Hashem.
